

I am once again planning visits to meet with students who have applied to St. Lawrence College to discuss their next steps in the process and perhaps with any students who have not applied but you think may benefit from a quick chat. I began this initiative with several schools several years ago and it has proven to be very successful.

Lou Anne will be in on Thursday March 29th to provide one-on-one information and advisement to your students as they move forward with the transition from high school to college.

I can answer any questions they have about financial aid, awards and bursaries, counselling and accessibility services for students with disabilities, confirming offers and what the college experience will be like.

Library @ Lunch